

Mockup Review Notes

Creative Director: Campbell Oh

Designer: Sophie Difazio

Notes:

- I prefer Mockup A to Mockup B.
- I like how the texts are on opposite sides (as well as the photos), but I think the page might look more structured if the margins on both sides of the html are the same width.
- I wonder if the mockup might look more consistent if the gradient behind the characters matches the color scheme of the navigation bar, or vice versa.
- Could the navigation bar be black / the same value as the darkest color of the images?
- The checkered background is a creative choice, but I think separating the two checkered backgrounds (the pink + white and black + white, as well as the larger black + white and diagonal black + white) with solid color sections might make the page look more organized.
- Could the body text maybe be a sans serif? I think it might match the logo a bit more, but the headings and subtitles could be serif or a decorative text.
